What are we learning in PE?

We spent the first PE classes going over expectations with our students, but we are excited to get started with our first unit of the year... Cooperation and Nutrition!

Our COOPERATION Unit sets the tone for a great year in PE. Younger students will focus on moving safely and following instructions, and older students will expand on these themes with a focus on sportsmanship and teamwork.

We will spend 5-10 minutes of each class talking about NUTRITION.

Kindergarten and First Grade will learn to classify food into three categories:

GO FOODS are high in nutrients and close to their natural source, like whole meat, milk, fresh fruits and veggies, and whole grains. Students are encouraged to eat as many GO Foods as possible!

SLOW FOODS are high in nutrients, but slightly processed and with more calories, like nut butter, applesauce, flavored yogurt, and pickled foods. Students should eat SLOW foods daily in moderation.

WHOA FOODS are low in nutrients and high in calories, like ice cream, donuts, sugary drinks, and baked goods. Our curriculum encourages WHOA Foods to be saved for special occasions!

Second and Third Graders learn about food groups and nutrients

Fourth and Fifth Graders focus on understanding food labels and balancing meals.

COUNSELOR CORNER

Your kids are back! Here's a little peep of what they're learning in counseling time!

HERE'S WHAT'S NEW IN THIS ISSUE:

*Counselor's Message
Self-Regulation Lessons
Back to school tips*

BACK TO SCHOOL!

Your kids are back at school, and they are coming home exhausted and maybe even a little moody! It's very normal for kids to work hard to keep it together all day, and then lose it when they get home. You are their safe person, and even though it doesn't feel great to be the recipient of your child's tears or bad mood, it's a sign that they feel comfortable enough with you to be who they are. If you're dealing with this at home, be patient, reflect and validate their feelings, and stick to the things you know are good for them. Bedtime routines, limiting screen time, and making sure to spend some quality time together each day are things that will help ease this transition.

Counselor Message

This year Katie Beck will work with grades 2-4, and Caroline Sanchez will work with Kindergarten, 1st, and 5th. They will share Pre-K 3&4. We want you to know that we have a website this year with great information and parent resources! Here's the link to the

Patton Counselors Page

Zones of Regulation

During September, the counselors will start their guidance rotation.

The first topic we cover is self-regulation, and we do that using the Zones of Regulation. We know that kids learn to self-regulate through co-regulation with adults (especially their parents)! Modeling your own self-regulation and working on calming down together helps kids learn these essential skills. Here are more tips from Zones:

Ask your child..."what zone are you in?"

The green zone means they feel content, calm, and ready to go (or learn).

The blue zone means their energy is low. They might feel sad, tired, sick, bored, or hungry.

The yellow zone means their energy is getting a little higher. They might feel silly/hyper OR feel worried or frustrated.

The red zone means they have lost control. Their anger, fear or excitement got so big that they no longer have control of their body.

Helping your child identify their zone is a great first step! Once they know where they are, you can come up with a good strategy to calm down together!

Readers will love this next installment of the uproarious, award-winning Mother Bruce series.

About the Author:

Ryan T. Higgins is an author and illustrator who likes the outdoors and cheese sandwiches. He is NOT a grumpy old black bear, but he DOES like making books about one—starting with the New York Times best-selling Mother Bruce, which received the E. B. White Read-Aloud Award and the Ezra Jack Keats New Illustrator Honor. He also wrote and illustrated BE QUIET!, We Don't Eat Our Classmates, Santa Bruce, Bruce's Big Fun Day, and Peek-a-Bruce. HIGH SCHOOLS

Campuses may not allow food or beverages to be provided to students during meal times where meals are served or consumed.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

- Parents may bring items to celebrate their child's birthday; however, they cannot be provided to students in the cafeteria during meal service times. Birthday food items may only be shared after the last scheduled class of the day.
- A campus may develop additional guidelines concerning birthday celebrations, such as number of celebrations per month and certain time to celebrate, so as not to interfere with instructional time.

FOOD FOR INSTRUCTIONAL PURPOSES

2019-20 DISTRICT CHARGING POLICY

No students at Austin ISD are ever denied a meal because their accounts aren't current.

- If students exhaust their meal accounts, they may charge meals at any meal service as follows:
 - Students in elementary and middle school may charge up to three meals; students in high school may charge up to two meals;
 - And students may not charge a la carte items.
- Charges shall be paid in full before a menued meal is offered. Once the charge limit is reached, if the account is not replenished, the student shall receive a courtesy meal. There is no limit to the number of courtesy meals a student may receive.
- Food service staff shall not pull a tray from a student who has reached the charge limit.
- Cafeteria staff will work with campus administration to identify students' eligibility for free or reduced price meals.

NOTIFICATION OF LOW AND NEGATIVE BALANCES AND COLLECTION OF FUNDS

- The district shall notify the household of a student with a low and negative meal balance and request payment by letter and email.
- Automatic phone calls shall also be administered no more than once per week.

PAYMENT OF DELINQUENT MEAL DEBT CHARGE

- Donated funds received throughout the year, when available, will be used to offset negative account balances. At year end, activity or other local funds are used to offset negative account balances.
